Scholar Spotlight:

Alex Kaye

Viner Scholar Alex got accepted to be a part of the Clinton Global Initiative University for his Sock Drive Project and he will travel to Scotland in April. He shared his experience with us and what sparked the idea behind the Sock Drive Project. "On Christmas Day in 2018, my family and I volunteered at a church through an organization called Meals with Meaning in South Florida. After having conversations with some of them, he discovered that they were desperately in need of socks.

During winter break, Alex started a sock drive for the South Florida community. In the spring semester, he was able to donate 300 pairs of socks and 10 pairs of shoes. Additionally, he reached out to Bombas, a sock company and they sent 1,750 pairs of socks that has since been distributed, through several organizations, to help those in need. At UCF, students are able to get these socks at the Knights Pantry or Student Care Services.
